

RESEARCH- Abigail Wheeler

What is the state of craft in Macedonia? How could one compare this to other countries with strong craft traditions such as the woodblock printing in the Kutch Region of India (right) and batik dyeing in Indonesia (left)? Is craft becoming something that is consumed and supported by the tourism industry rather than local people? Does this “industrialization” of craft traditions help sustain them?